

sinclair's license should be revoked for breaking federal election law if they don't make the producers of a campaign commercial pay for their time